Today is playgroup day.
In the morning, after breakfast,
the children go to playgroup.

Some girls and boys walk,
others catch a bus,
or ride in a car.

At the hall, the children leave their coats on their pegs.
Some friends are playing already.

Mummy or Daddy says, "Goodbye!
Have a lovely time."
Sometimes Mummy may stay to help.

At playgroup there are lots of things to do.

There is sand to play with...

...and water.

Thèse boys and girls are painting.
Some children are painting with their fingers.

In a quiet corner
are some puzzles and bricks.

There are books to look at.
A helper is reading a story to some children.

Do you like stories?

These children are dressing up.

These children are playing in the house.

At playgroup there are lots of things to look at and talk about.

On this table are some black buttons and white paper.
What else can you see?

Some children have put things on the nature table.

Do you know what they are?

The boys and girls enjoy a drink
together at break time.
They eat a biscuit,
and tell the helpers their news.

After break the children might make music...

or sing songs together.

This helper is gluing with the children.
What are they making?

These children are sewing.

On fine days the children may play outside.

It's good to be running outside.

Some days the girls and boys go out for a walk.

Sometimes they go to the park.

Sometimes they go to a farm.

At the end of the morning it's time to tidy up.

Put away the toys.
Sweep up the sand.

Then all the children gather round to listen to a story, or sing some nursery rhymes.

The Mummies and Daddies call to collect the children.

The boys and girls take home the things that they have made.

They have had a happy time!
